Washington, (CPA)—The house of representatives has gone home and the president alone struggles with the senate. That's the situation on the Potomac with Mr. Hoover determined to fight it out with the upper house if it takes all summer.

Two things are at stake—the president's leadership and the ratification of the naval treaty. Stimulated by his victories in the last few days of the regular session of congress, supporters of the president think a turning point has come and that the prestige of Mr. Hoover will be enhanced when the senate adopts the naval treaty.

Throughout the seventy-first congress the house has been the president's staunch ally. Circumstances are different now because the president must marshal a two-thirds vote in the senate. Much harder for the moment is the problem of maintaining a quorum as the senators are tired and want to go home. Some of them are already gone. There are not enough opponents of the treaty to develop pairs. Less than twenty votes will be cast against the treaty.

The president's friends are unusually active. Conferences over the week-end show that Mr. Hoover was preparing for battle at last. Hitherto inclined to be passive, the president realizes that unless he can get the naval treaty ratified his prestige abroad as well as at home will suffer. The parliament of Great Britain and Japan are discussing the naval pact but will not ratify until the United States takes the initiative. So in a sense the entire movement to limit naval armaments depends on the action of the United States senate. A decisive vote in favor of the treaty will have a profound effect abroad.

Lindbergh Maps Needs Of Aviation To World League

Suggests Formation of Defense Principles — Sees Barriers Razed

New York, (CP)—Responding to a request from the league of nations for views on the international aspects of commercial aviation, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has cabled to the transit section of the league a comprehensive outline of what can be done for flying.

He suggested, he told the Associated Press today, that now is the time, while airlines of the world are in a formative stage, to establish principles and practices which will offer a broad basis for development and which will recognize that the airplane is going to break down national barriers and the prejudices of isolation.

"There is great need," Lindbergh cabled, "for international cooperation in the standardization of airways. A uniform system of markings and signals should be decided upon and a comprehensive meteorological and radio reporting system established."

"Adoption of uniform regulations is of utmost importance. In some countries today aircraft are placed in the class with ocean steamers and must go through similar procedure in clearing. Clearance charges are high and delays are often comparatively long in relation to the time spent in actual travel."

"There are instances where only aircraft registered within a country and carrying its markings are allowed to operate. Numerous and complicated papers are often required where a careful study would make most of them unnecessary."

"Intelligent consideration of these and other problems confronting aviation would be of untold assistance to development of international commerce. It is not possible to develop air transport and communication in its broadest aspect without the cooperation of the entire world."

Four Bandits Stage Holdup — Club Patron in Unconsciousness

Lake Preston, S. D. (CP)—Four armed men held up the Community State bank here at 11:15 this morning, slugged one man into unconsciousness and escaped with $12,000 in cash and bonds.

Immediately pursued by an armed posse, the robbers sped out of the city in a large sedan and were believed headed for the Twin Cities. The sedan, maroon in color, bore an Iowa license number 60-2287. Three men were described as dressed in business suits while the fourth was said to be wearing overalls.

The four men entered the bank and forced three employees to lie on the floor while they ransacked the bank. They were unable to lock the employees in the vault. Ernest Olson entered the bank while the robbery was in progress and was held up with the other men. He succeeded in wrestling the gun from the robber, but was hit over the head by one of the robber's confederates.

The mayor decided to accept the decision of the circuit court instead of appealing to the tribunal which Monday ruled against the first case, the city clerk would be required to call the recall election within 20 days.

REMOVE LAST OBSTACLE TO ELECTION ON RECALL

Detroit, (CP)—The remaining legal obstacle to an election on the recall of Mayor Charles Bowles was removed Tuesday by Circuit Judge Robert M. Toms, who dissolved a restraining order he had issued against the city clerk yesterday on petition of the mayor.

Whether the mayor would carry the case to the supreme court, as did his advisors with an earlier suit brought in the name of "taxpayers," designed to prevent the recall election, was not announced.

Should the mayor decide to accept the decision of the circuit court instead of appealing to the tribunal which Monday ruled against the first case, the city clerk would be required to call the recall election within 20 days.

TARDIEU REGIME WINS
TILT IN FRENCH SENATE

Paris, (CP)—The cabinet of Andre Tardieu today twice survived attacks of its enemies in the senate, winning votes of confidence. The second test came this evening, closely following upon an afternoon ballot by which the government won the margin of five votes. This evening the margin was 63, on a question of special army furloughs of farmer boys.

FOR PARDON

California Governor Must Accept Court and Pardon Board Rulings

Los Angeles, (CP)—Gov. C. C. Young today declined to pardon Thomas J. Mooney, who is serving a life sentence for the 1916 San Francisco Preparedness day bombing.

"Until some further light is shed upon the case, which I do not now possess," the governor said, "I manifestly must accept the conclusions of the supreme court and the advisory pardon board."

In a long statement the governor said he considered the Warren K. Billings and the Mooney cases parallel and both men were innocent or both were guilty.

Mooney and Billings were convicted of murder in connection with the bombing of the Preparedness day parade in San Francisco July 22, 1916, in which 10 persons were killed and 40 wounded. They are serving life sentences.

Agitation for executive clemency for Mooney reached a climax in 1921 after John McDonald, principal state's witness, made an affidavit in New York saying his testimony had been false. Mooney refused a parole on the ground it would constitute an admission of guilt. He maintained he had been convicted because of his labor activities.

Two governors received Mooney's petition for a pardon but did not act. Governor Young finally took the case under consideration but decided not to act on Mooney's application without deliberating on Billings' plight also. Because Billings previously had been convicted of a felony it was necessary to have the supreme court pass on his pardon application before executive action could be taken. Last Friday the supreme court affirmed its belief in Billings' guilt.

McDonald, an eye-witness of the explosion, described to the grand jury at Billings' trial in September, 1916, and at Mooney's early in 1917, the placing of the suitcase in which was the time bomb, at Stuart and Market streets. He identified Billings as the man who carried the internal machine and Mooney as his companion.

In February, 1921, however, McDonald, who had moved to Maryland, made the affidavit in which he said the San Francisco police assisted him in identifying the defendants by taking him to the jails where they were held pending trial and pointing them out.

MOONEY CONTINUES FIGHT
San Quentin Prison, Calif. (CP)—Asserting he was "neither discouraged nor disheartened" by the state pardon board's recommendation against his being pardoned, Thomas J. Mooney today grided himself for "the coming fight" that would eventually bring freedom.

"Both Warren Billings and myself are absolutely innocent of this crime and the decision of the governor and the supreme court does not make us guilty," said Mooney.

"Now our friends can proceed," he added, "to the task of bringing about our final and ultimate vindication. The Mooney-Billings case will immediately assume an international aspect and it will not end until both of us are free men."

"Again I repeat, fate has once more smiled upon me kindly. I feel highly honored in the greater service to which I have been called for the establishment of the principle involved in our case."

King George Pleads For Restoration Of Peace In India

EVERY RACE SHOULD HELP, MONARCH SAYS

Sees Beginning of New Era With Opening of India House in London

London.—(AP)—A new India house was opened in London by King George today with an expression of hope for the emergence of India from her present troubled era into days of peace and contentment.

"The restoration of a true understanding of the unity of the great commonwealth of which India is a part," King George said, "would aid in solving India's destiny."

The building, a beautiful new governmental structure in the heart of London, will house the various trade and commercial interest of India, as Australia house on the Strand long has those of the Australian commonwealth.

"At this critical period India's history, when the thoughts of all who love that country are centered upon constructive effort and upon laying well and truly the foundation of India of the future," King George said, "it is a happy augury to be able to open a building which marks the end of one period of advancement and the beginning of a new era."

"But India house stands for more than that. As I look around me I see the emblems of the religions, the provinces and the states of India. This building which contains them surely testifies to the unity of India in herself. The position of India house among those of the sister nations here in the center of my capital further symbolizes the unity of the great commonwealth of which she is a part. For a deeper realization of that twofold unity I most earnestly pray."

PLEADS FOR UNITY

"During recent months I watched with anxious heart the troubled passage of events. Trusting in the Divine guidance, I hopefully await the day that shall restore the unity of true understanding and thus unite every race and creed in one desire to bring peace and contentment to my Indian people."

"On the successful issue of your plans, I congratulate you, Sir Atul Chandra, and all those who have been associated with you. Foremost amongst these was Sir Herbert Baker who has impressed his genius upon so many of the great buildings in the imperial capital at Delhi. It is most appropriate that he should also be the designer of this India house in London."

"I have now much pleasure in declaring India house open, and I trust that it may not only serve the material progress of the country but by spreading sound knowledge may it foster between the peoples of India and Great Britain that wider sympathy for which I have pleaded many years and plead again today."

The speech replied to an address of Sir Atul Chandra Chatterjee, high commissioner of India.

The address of the king lasted just six minutes. It was followed by arrangements had been made with the National Broadcasting company in America for its re-broadcast.

ASK INTERVENTION IN GASOLINE PRICE WAR

San Francisco.—(AP)—Directors of the Retail Service Station Dealers association today asked Gov. C. C. Young to intervene in the California gasoline price-cutting war and save them from "utter ruin."

The telegram, signed by President Joseph Devenenz, suggested oil companies be declared public utilities and placed under the control of the State Railroad commission.

Unless some action is taken within a week, Devenenz said, his members would sell gasoline at cost.

CITIZEN OBJECTS TO PHONE DIAL SYSTEM

Baltimore, Md.—(AP)—United States senators aren't the only ones to be ruled by the automatic dial system which is coming into vogue with telephone companies. Whether the phone subscriber has to submit to installation of the dial system is the knotty problem placed before the Maryland Public Service commission by an irate patron.

When senators objected to the dial congressional action was obtained. Rodney Niles here is no senator but doesn't want the contraption in his home, and cited various reasons in his complaint to the state body.

FREIGHT RATE BOOST GIVEN FEDERAL O. K.

Annual Earnings Expected to Reach $12,000,000 as Result of Ruling

Washington.—(AP)—Railroad operating in western trunk line territory, which extends west from Lake Michigan to the Rocky mountains and northward from Kansas and Missouri to the Canadian border, were authorized today to establish increased rates on classified freight.

The increased annual earnings expected to result from the Interstate Commerce commission ruling are estimated in railroad circles at $12,000,000.

At the same time, railroads in eastern territory were accorded permission to institute a new system of class rates applying over the northeast quarter of the United States, which in general will result in increased earnings.

The western trunk line rate revision will be effective Nov. 1, while the eastern division revision will be made effective within four months.

In eastern territory generally, the commission prescribed a distance basis for classified freight rates, which in some cases involved reductions from existing rate levels.

STATE CONSTRUCTION OF HIGHWAYS FAVORED

Madison.—(AP)—Preliminary results of a questionnaire sent to organizations throughout the state indicate a desire for state construction and maintenance of highways, the state chamber of commerce has announced.

The majority of questionnaires returned also showed a desire to amend the state law to enable the acquisition of $3,000,000 yearly in federal funds. The questionnaire also sought an opinion on the proposal to levy an increased gasoline tax and asked whether such a tax should be used largely for highways.

WATCH ATTITUDE OF WHEAT GROWERS TOWARD MARKETING

Reports Indicate Decided Sentiment Against Selling Just Now

Kansas City, Mo.—(AP)—With the harvest nearly completed as far north as the Nebraska line, only the high plains of northwest Kansas and scattered fields elsewhere remaining to be cut, the disposition of the producers toward marketing is arousing much interest.

Reports from the wheat belt say there is a decided sentiment against selling at the present low prices and that rather than do so some heavy producers will pile grain on the ground where storage is not available.

While some sections report heavier yields than earlier estimates, others tell of disappointing yields, though generally the favorable harvest weather has been conducive to good quality.

The tendency to hold wheat, wherever pressing obligations do not compel prompt marketing will have some effect on trade. Farmers operating on long time credit usually retrench during the last weeks of spring and early summer and this year that has been a pronounced policy.

Complete Plans For Rexford Memorial Dedication

TWO COLLEGE HEADS TO TALK AT CEREMONY

Program Will Take Place July 16 at Shiocton on Lawn of Church

The program for the dedication of a memorial to Eben E. Rexford, Shiocton poet and writer, has been completed by the Rexford Memorial committee. The dedication will take place on July 16, the anniversary of Rexford's birth, at Shiocton.

The memorial, a bronze tablet inscribed in a large granite boulder, will be unveiled by Frank Spencer, son of Mrs. Olive Spencer, wife of Eben E. Rexford. Mrs. Spencer was one of Rexford's nieces.

On this tablet will be the following inscription:

Eben E. Rexford. Author-Silver Threads Among the Gold. Born Johnsonburg, New York, July 16, 1848. Died Shiocton Oct. 19, 1916. "To Everyone God Gives a Share of Work to Do, Sometimes Somewhere."

The last quotation from one of Rexford's poems. The memorial is valued by the committee at $1,500. Two college presidents are scheduled to pay tribute to Rexford's memory. They are: Dr. Silas Evans, president of Ripon college; and Professor J. H. Ames, president of the State Teachers' college at River Falls. Dr. Evans will discuss literature and the influence of Ames will discuss Ames as a community worker. C. W. Greenfield, a Chicago attorney and a boyhood chum of Rexford's will discuss Rexford as a boy.

Two pastors of the Congregational church at Shiocton, to which Rexford belonged, are on the program. The Rev. F. M. Dexter, Union Grove, who was pastor when the church was built, will discuss Rexford as a church worker. The Rev. Philo Hitchcock, River Falls, will read the invocation and the benediction.

KOHLER CAN'T ATTEND
Governor Walter J. Kohler was invited to attend the program but because he has to be at Camp Douglas on that day he announced this week he would be unable to be present.

The Rexford committee, which is headed by President Henry M. Wriston of Lawrence college, was the outgrowth of plans started by the Outagamie County Pioneer association to honor Rexford's memory. The committee was appointed by the association to make plans for honoring Rexford and it considered its work so important that it decided to become a permanent body.

Members of the committee, besides Dr. Wriston, are: W. H. Hatton, New London manufacturer; W. A. Olson, Clintonville, president of the Clintonville Four Wheel Drive company; George Lonker, Shiocton; W. E. Smith, A. G. Meading and C. C. Nelson, Appleton; and H. K. Derus, Kaukauna.

Luncheon clubs and fraternal organizations from five counties, Outagamie, Shawano, Winnebago, Brown and Waupaca, are being asked to assist in making the dedication program at Shiocton a success. In addition, Outagamie Pioneer association is lending assistance.

More than a thousand people are expected to go to Shiocton on July 16 to attend the ceremonies. It is expected "old-timers" from all over the state will visit Shiocton that day to reminisce with other pioneers.

Traffic in Shiocton will be handled by a squad of American Legion men working under the county motorcycle officers.

HATTON HEADS PROGRAM
Mr. Hatton will be chairman of the program which will be opened by a 15-minute program by the Appleton high school band, under direction of Prof. E. C. Moore.

Following the program by the band the Rev. Hitchcock will read the invocation. Then Mr. Greenfield will talk, followed by the Rev. Dexter and Dr. Ames.

A tenor solo, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," will be sung by George Nixon, Appleton, accompanied by the band. Following this solo there will be contributions by Shiocton residents. Then will follow the address by Dr. Evans after which Dr. Wriston will deliver the closing prayer.

Mr. Hatton will make a few short remarks and the unveiling will follow. While the curtain is being taken from the memorial the audience will sing "Silver Threads Among the Gold," accompanied by the band and led by Mr. Nixon. The benediction by the Rev. Hitchcock will close the ceremonies.

INCREASE COUNTY STORM INSURANCE TO $200,000
The amount of cyclone and tornado insurance carried on the county courthouse, jail and workhouse, was increased from $100,000 to $200,000 by the county building and grounds committee at a meeting Monday afternoon at the courthouse.

The insurance elapsed on July 1 and the committee decided to double the amount which it carried. The cost remains the same, $720 per year. This additional insurance at the same rate was made possible by accepting the 50 per cent clause, which means only 50 per cent of losses will be paid by the firms. The insurance was divided among 27 agents who formerly had the business.

The committee also allowed current monthly bills totaling $1,123.

It was decided that a certain section of land on the north side of the lake would be cleared of trees for establishment of a suitable camp site. It will be necessary to ferry scouts and their supplies over the lake to approach the camp, inasmuch as the road is not fit for travel, according to Mr. Clark.

REELECT GRAEF AS HEAD OF VETERANS FOR TWELFTH TERM

Rainbow Organization Names Kittner Vice President, Hantschel Secretary

Major Lothar Graef was reelected president of the Appleton Rainbow Veterans at a meeting at Rainbow cottage on Lake Winnebago last night. It is Major Graef's twelfth term as president. He has served in that capacity ever since the organization was formed.

Other officers named are: Harvey Kittner, vice president; John E. Hantschel, reelected a secretary for the ninth time; August Ahrens, treasurer; and Robert Merkel, historian.

Members of this committee are: Harvey Kittner, chairman; Herbert Gambisky, LeRoy Craig, George Stuevert and Paul Wilke. The veterans also decided to make a special assessment of $5 against each member, the funds to be used to pay off the balance on the cottage and to pay for needed repairs. A special committee was named to make the collection. Members of this committee are: August Ahrens, chairman, Edward Lutz and Lloyd Kessler.

A special membership committee was named to take charge of securing new members during the next year. On this committee are: Theodore Albrecht, chairman, Walter Bogan and John Young.

Swanson Launches Debate For Treaty

would be folly to wreck this treaty or the difference in the military value between 27 eight-inch guns and 36 six-inch guns." He said this difference in the cruisers involves less than 3 per cent of the entire naval tonnage.

"The naval supremacy of the United States is firmly established in the western hemisphere by this treaty," he said. "It seems to me to be wise to accept this great advantage and not to risk the naval strength of America to the uncertainties that must exist in a policy of competitive building."

INVOLVES NEW BUILDING

"The opponents of this treaty have claimed that it involves new construction to an amount of about $1,000,000,000 on the part of the United States. This statement is entirely untrue. This new construction would, of course, be spread over a number of years. This new construction is due to the fact that for the past 10 years we have lagged far behind Great Britain and Japan in new construction. This treaty in reality provides for a slowing up in construction on the part of those two countries while the United States catches up."

"This may seem a large sum but it is just about one-half of what this country will actually have to spend in providing a navy which maintains the desired ratio if the present treaty is not approved."

"If this treaty is defeated, we must begin to replace our capital ships at once. The total cost of replacing the battleship fleet will be about $600,000,000. To build the tonnage in which we are short at present in carriers, cruisers, destroyers and submarines with relation to other powers will require about nine hundred million."

FORMER JUDGE SUCCEUMBS IN JEFFERSON COUNTY

Watertown —(P)— John G. Conway, 78, county judge of Jefferson county for the last eight years, died at his home here Monday evening. He had been ill for several months, and resigned his office June 27.

The widow, a daughter and a son, the latter a student at the state university, survive. The funeral will be from St. Bernard's church here Tuesday morning.

Judge Conway, long in public life, became prominent in 1835 by his work as a state assemblyman. He refused to accept passes from the railroads, setting a new precedent. His reason was that such practice implied an obligation to the railroads, whereas he recognized no obligation except that owed to his constituents and the public.

A schoolmate of the late Robert M. La Follette, he was principal of schools both at Hillsborough and Watertown prior to his graduation. For two terms he was district attorney of Jefferson county.

He was appointed by Gov. Blair in 1923 and the following April was elected for six years, then reelected last year.

CAMP VISITORS SEE SWIMMING EXHIBITION

A swimming exhibition, including diving, water polo, and a boat race, was witnessed by about 80 visitors at Onaway camp on Sunday. In the evening vesper services were held in the outdoor assembly, and later Robert Neller of Appleton entertained the campers with a ventriloquist act.

Monday morning the tent leaders had a breakfast picnic at Otter Creek, and in the afternoon the Crystal Lake swim team was taken by all deep water swimmers and counselors who desired to go. The trip is an annual event at Onaway camp.

On Sunday campers attended Protestant and Catholic church services in Waurea.

GRANT REQUESTS TO BUILD TWO GARAGES

Two requests to build garages in violation of a sideyard ordinance were granted at a meeting Tuesday evening. These adjoining property owners requested a change in location of the G. Cannon garage at N. 4 St. and the fact that the one on N. 4 St. is in violation of the sideyard ordinance, the board granted the appeal. The original garage was located by the recent storm. Allowed by a city attorney, was given permission to construct at 323 E. Lawrence-st.

ELIMINATE COMPETITION

"Also there must be provided additional funds for construction to meet the building of other powers which we may, of course, expect them to continue in case there is no treaty. This amount is, of course, indefinite, but will probably amount to at least $500,000,000 over a period of probably 10 years. Hence it is perfectly reasonable to assume that new construction will cost this nation $1,000,000,000 more without a treaty than it will if the London treaty is ratified."

"Approval of this treaty will also mean that when we have finished the construction provided for we will have for the first time in our naval history a balanced fleet. I assume, of course, that if this treaty is approved the congress will authorize a building program giving us the tonnage for which it provides."

"The benefits of an even building program extending over a number of years are very great. The navy is able to embody lessons learned in the new construction as it progresses. The benefit of an even flow of work at both the navy yards and the commercial shipyards is of great benefit to labor in insuring continuous work. This latter is a feature which must be given great consideration in the future."

CAN'T AFFORD REJECTION

"Mr. President, from a military and selfish standpoint, the United States can not afford to reject this treaty. From a higher and nobler purpose the treaty should have our approval. It is promotive of peace, conducive of good will among the nations involved, and I hope marks the beginning of a more complete treaty for the limitation of naval armaments."

"For the United States to reject this treaty would be for her to abandon her moral leadership in the world and declaring at the same time that she is an imperialist nation seeking conquest and expansion. It would create in the rest of the world an apprehension that we had sinister purposes to serve when we rejected the treaty, and would result finally in political combinations against us to our detriment and menace. This situation would injure our foreign commerce and retard our material development."

"Mr. President, whether controlled by selfish, material interests, or the broader and nobler purpose of promoting world peace and betterment, the best interests of the United States demanded the ratification of this treaty."

LOS ANGELES WILL SETTLE WATER FEUD

Plan to Spend $38,000,000 to Settle Riparian Controversy

Los Angeles—After 30 years of feuds over water rights, Los Angeles hopes to end the controversy by buying outright five towns and numerous ranches.

The city plans to spend $38,000,000 and reach out 350 miles to enlarge existing water facilities, which are considered inadequate to supply the city until the Boulder dam supply is available.

Bitterness among ranchers over water division in the past has resulted in dynamiting of water works, armed conflict with city officers and prolonged litigation.

Besides buying outright the towns of Laws, Bishop, Independence and Lone Pine for $5,750,000, Los Angeles plans to build an 11-mile tunnel to connect Silver Lake with the Owens river, buy the Mono basin and water rights on it for $4,650,000, and purchase of privately-owned farm land, build more storage dams and enlarge its existing aqueduct.

The money will be raised by a bond issue.

Los Angeles has owned water rights on the upper reaches of the Owens river for 20 years, but ranchers and business interests in the surrounding towns were bitter at diversions of the precious fluid from their territory. They felt the "moral right" to the water was theirs.

At one time 65 armed men stood off the city employees and sheriff's deputies for three days while they let water pour through opened gates into their own semi-arid lands. Arrests were made subsequently but no convictions could be obtained.

Construction work on the new project is scheduled to begin in three years, engineers say. The Colorado river supply, part of which will be available for Los Angeles, will not be ready for another 10 years.

NEW PERJURY CHARGE FILED AGAINST CAPONE

Miami, Fla.—(P)—An additional charge of perjury was filed Tuesday against "Scarface" Al Capone as he awaited trial Wednesday on two similar charges growing out of his allegation that S. D. McCreary, public safety director of Miami, subjected him to false arrest and inhuman treatment.

The third charge, based on allegations filed by County Solicitor McCaskill, was a substitute for one of two previous warrants quashed Monday by the court.

The new warrant alleges Capone committed perjury when he testified McCreary threatened to lock the gangster and several companions in a wash room of the Miami municipal jail instead of a cell at the time of their arrest May 8.

Capone's testimony on which the perjury charges are based was given during hearing of his case against McCreary.

WINNING BALLOONIST SOON TO BE MARRIED

Miami Beach, Fla.—(P)—F. A. Trotter, co-pilot of the balloon "Goodyear" which won the annual Goodyear contest as winner of the recent national elimination race, had more than one incentive to win the contest.

Miss Marjorie Pylant announced their engagement Tuesday saying they would be married soon.

Miss Pylant said she had promised to marry Trotter if his balloon won the race. She will leave for Akron, Ohio, within a few days, she said, to set her fiancé and make plans for the wedding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Pylant of Nashville, Tenn.

Trotter was assistant superintendent of the Miami Beach Railway company from May, 1926, to August, 1929, and is a graduate of the United States Naval academy.

HURLEY TO INSPECT DIVERSION PROJECT

Washington—(P)—Secretary Hurley has promised Senator Nye to visit North Dakota late this month for inspection of the proposed Missouri river diversion project.

The project, preliminary plans for which call for a $60 million of the Missouri approximately 100 miles to increase the water supply all along the line to the Devils lake region, has been under consideration by army engineers for three or four years.

Appropriations for a survey were made two years ago, but the engineers have yet to report. Senator Nye said the war secretary would tour the proposed project by airplane and motor. Mr. Hurley also will address the state American legion convention at Fargo.

The wire did not indicate what caused the revocation of the permit except that both doctors were guilty of violations of regulations regarding filling prescriptions.

This revocation will mean that Dr. Lahn will be unable to prescribe whisky as treatment for patients whom he attends for one year.

JUSTICE FINES HIS OLD INSTRUCTOR IN LATIN

Evanston, Ill.—(P)—Police Magistrate Harry H. Porter's latin has become a bit rusty with the passing years. Still, the lessons he learned from Mrs. Ada Townsend in the old Evanston academy have helped a lot in his career full of habeas corpus and coram nobis and nolle contendere.

The latin teacher came to court Tuesday to give her former pupil a review. She had parked her automobile without a light.

"Hello, Mrs. Townsend," smiled the justice.

The magistrate was perturbed at having to fine "one of the finest teachers I ever had," but his teacher reminded him:

"One of the earliest phrases I ever taught you was 'omnis justitia'."

And equal justice to all meant $1 and costs.

CLAIM INVESTORS IN GERMAN BONDS NEED NOT WORRY

Flurry in Market Said to Be Incident Attending Distribution

BY PRESTON S. KRECKER
Copyright 1930, by Cons. Press
Wall Street, New York—(CPA)—

Investors in German reparations bonds, of which nearly $100,000,000 were recently distributed throughout the country by a nationwide syndicate, need not be unduly disturbed by the flurry in the market for that issue last week. It was one of those incidents which frequently attend distribution of a large loan, particularly if it happens to be a foreign issue.

A mistaken impression seems to have gotten abroad that the syndicate which underwrote the German loan has been dissolved. That impression is incorrect. The syndicate is still intact and the agreement binding syndicate members not to sell the bonds under the subscription price of 90 is in effect. What has been done has been to lift the price restriction with the result that syndicate members are privileged to lower their bids for the bonds. It was because of the removal of that restriction that the market for the bonds reacted about 2 points last Thursday.

SHOWS OPERATION
The incident throws interesting light on the workings of bond underwriting syndicates. It is customary for syndicates to agree to run for a period of about 60 days but cases have been known where they have been continued in effect for much longer periods through extensions of the original time limit in cases where unusual difficulty has been experienced in effecting distribution of a loan. One of the most conspicuous instances of that sort was the Tidewater Associated Oil underwriting, when the syndicate was held together for about three years.

In the case of the German reparations bonds, the syndicate has been in existence less than a month and undoubtedly will run for some weeks longer. Syndicates are organized to effect the placing of bonds in permanent hands. The incident in the market for the German reparations bonds last week indicates that such placing has not yet been effected despite the fact that a heavy oversubscription for the issue was reported the day the loan was publicly offered.

The fact of the matter is that the bonds have been re-sold rather freely since the offering was made. It was because of such re-selling apparently that the syndicate managers decided to lift the price restrictions and lower their bids for the bonds.

SEE SPECULATION
That re-selling is not to be construed as an indication that the bonds are not a good investment. It simply means that a good deal of speculative buying and selling of the bonds has been going on. Whenever a big loan is put on the market, especially if it is widely advertised by propaganda from powerful banking interests as was the case with the German bonds, so-called "sharpshooters" in Wall Street and other financial centers subscribe for the issue with the sole purpose of making a quick turn in the market; in other words they figure on an oversubscription, an advance above the subscription price and a chance to scalp a point or two of profit.

THE HOME MADE TOM THUMB GOLF COURSE OF THE LITTLE SCORPIONS CLUB IS THE SPORTIEST COURSE IN THE WHOLE NEIGHBORHOOD.

In the present instance there were so many smart speculators in the German bonds that they got in each other's way, so to speak. Their selling quickly forced the price back to 90, where of course the syndicate managers supported the market. However, the bankers eventually became tired of buying back the bonds and tried a little ruse. They lowered the bid price with the result that speculators could no longer liquidate without taking a loss. That had the effect of checking the selling. Incidentally the presence of a short interest in the market was disclosed. The shorts were forced to cover to make delivery with the result that while bonds were selling for future delivery at a price below 90, cash purchases were being made above 91.

FARMER KILLED IN FALL FROM WINDMILL

Nine Killed In Smashups Of Airplanes

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nine lives were lost in the nation's Sunday airplane accidents.

Six persons were killed in the midwest, two in New York and one in California. Of these, three died when planes plunged into water and another dropped to death attempting to rescue a society aviatrix from a dangling, tangled parachute.

At Ruthven, Iowa, a plane banked preparatory to landing and crashed from a 50-foot altitude. Kenneth Wilson, 20, the pilot, Sioux City, Ia., was killed instantly. Vera Hughes, 17, Ruthven, a passenger, and Ernest Southworth, 24, mechanic, Sioux City were fatally injured.

Making her first leap, Mary Fahrney, 18-year-old society girl of Oak Park, a Chicago suburb, caught her parachute in the plane and dangled

1,000 feet in the air for nearly two hours.

After one ship unsuccessfully tried to lower a rope ladder, Bruno Schustek, professional parachute jumper, shinned down a 75-foot knotted rope from another plane. Just as he reached Miss Fahrney, her parachute became disentangled and she floated to a perfect landing.

Hundreds below watched Schustek try to climb up the knotted rope. They saw him slip slowly, then drop to his death.

Blazing an air route from Chicago to Mackinac Island, Mich., for the Continental Airways, Inc., Bert E. Kogler, 28, and Duane L. Heller, 26, both of Chicago, were drowned in Lake Michigan when their cabin aquaplane plunged into the water south of South Haven, Mich.

Dick Dodds, of Santa Anna, Calif., a wealthy sportsman was stunting above the Sunday crowds at Laguna Beach, Calif., when his plane dived into Crescent bay.

Martin Wilksa, 19, a student pilot, and John W. Gorman, 40, his instructor, were killed at Floyd Bennett field New York.

Two brothers, Guy and Harry Coffin of Estherville, Iowa, were injured, the latter seriously, when their plane hit a telephone wire on landing at Clarion, Iowa.

TWO ITALIANS SLAIN BY DETROIT ASSASSIN

Detroit—(P)—Two unidentified Italians were shot to death behind a gasoline station at Mt. Elliott and Mack-ave on the east side of the city Monday. The assassin escaped in a large automobile which had been parked at the curb within 15 feet of the victims.

Police could not determine immediately whether the killings had any connection with the city's latest outbreak of gang violence which has resulted in four slayings since last Thursday.

Two Chicago racketeers were slain in front of the LaSalle hotel last Thursday and a Hammock under cover agent and an alleged bootlegger were shot to death in the former's home Saturday.

METAL COMPANIES DECLARE DIVIDENDS

New York—(P)—Directors of the Miami Copper Co. Monday declared a quarterly dividend of 37 cents, payable Aug. 15 to stock of record Aug. 1, placing the stock on a $1.50 annual basis, compared with $3 previously paid.

Directors of A. M. Castle and Co. of Chicago, merchandisers of iron and steel, have declared the usual extra dividend of 25 cents in addition to the regularly quarterly dividend of 75 cents, both payable Aug. 1 to stock of record July 15.

SALESMAN QUIZZED AT GRAFT HEARING

County Assessor Charged With Violation of Income Tax Law

Chicago—(P)—William Nichols, salesman for the Wisconsin Lime and Cement company, was questioned in federal court Monday in the trial of County Assessor Gene G. Oliver, who is charged with violation of the income tax law, as to how the name of "William Nichols" appeared on checks, admitted by a previous witness to have been given for "tax adjustments," some of which found their way into Oliver's bank account.

Nichols is also under indictment for violation of the income tax law. Last week Werner A. Wieboldt, millionaire merchant and philanthropist, testified to a tax-filing deal three years ago in which he authorized checks, totaling $40,000, made payable to a "William Nichols." Wieboldt said the checks represented half of the amount an unknown agent agreed to have the taxes on properties of his and associates reduced.

Nichols denied indorsing or authorizing the indorsement of the Wieboldt checks and he said that the signature was not his.

Nichols was questioned concerning two certificates of deposit for $15,000 and $14,000, the former of which was later indorsed by Oliver. The certificates were given for two checks on the Wieboldt estate. The witness explained that a "Mr.

"Buck" Douglas, a gambler," had asked him to deposit the checks to his account and get cashier's checks but that instead he deposited them and got certificates of deposit. He said he later cashed the $14,000 certificate and turned the money over to Douglas at the latter's request.

Nichols said Douglas told him not to worry when he asked why the checks were made out of him. He said he did not know Oliver had indorsed the $15,000 check below his own name until shown the check by the government.

Nichols testified that he was campaign manager for Oliver during 1925 and 1927. He said he never took any money from Oliver except campaign checks nor did he ever give money to Oliver.

He said that occasionally he would ask Oliver and sometimes other assessors and members of the board of review for "reasonable" valuations of property of friends and neighbors but that he did not receive compensation, except perhaps in contributions to the political campaign.

Wonderful Salts Says Mrs. Solomon

Tells How She Lost 47 Pounds In 3 Months

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for nearly 3 months. I have continued taking one teaspoonful in warm water every morning. I then weighed 217 pounds. I was always bothered with pains in my back and lower part of abdomen and sides.

"Now I am glad to say I am a well woman, feel much stronger, years younger and my weight is 170 pounds. I do not only feel better but I look better, so all my friends say.

"I shall never be without Kruschen Salts, will never cease taking my daily dose and more than glad to highly recommend it for the great good that is in it." Mrs. S. A. Solomon, New Bern, N. C., Jan. 1930.

"P. S. You may think I am exaggerating by writing such a long letter but truly I feel so indebted to you for putting out such wonderful salts that I cannot say enough."

The Story of Sue

by MARGERY HALE

© 1929 by NEA Service, Inc.

SUE sat up, thinking, taking an inventory of herself both physically and mentally, for so long, that it was late when she finally climbed into bed. She could smell the coffee perking when she awakened. Outside the wind was stirring the snow into a blizzard. She shivered as she dressed. She needed another office dress and she decided that she would buy a wine-red crepe because the color was warm and inviting. Red attracted people to the wearer. Blue was pretty but such a quiet, well behaved color. It had about as much pep as a milk shake unless it was made of material that had charm. On a style that added intrigue. Still... Jack had preferred her in blue.

She sat down at the breakfast table and ate her sugared grapefruit and the thin strips of toast and bacon, and told her mother about Corinne's house. She was half way through when the doorbell rang. Mrs. Merrymann answered. The next minute she heard Jack's voice.

"Is Sue here? It's blowing such a blizzard I thought I'd drop by and pick her up."

Her heart missed a beat and she put her coffee cup down quickly. She heard her mother telling Jack that she was eating breakfast, urging him to take off his coat and drink some coffee, too, and the next minute he was in the dining room door. It was quite natural and informal to have him there for breakfast. Mrs. Merrymann arranged another flowered plate and the silver, filled a cup with the aromatic liquid from the percolator, and put more bread on to toast. The platter of bacon and eggs was still hot, and there was an untouched grape fruit which Ted had not bothered to eat.

The dining room was small and cheerful and intimate.

Jack hesitated at first, then gave up. He admitted that he had not had breakfast.

"I usually run out to the coffee shop after I get to work," he said. "Dad does the same. The housekeeper objects to breakfast."

"I think that's terrible," Sue said impulsively. "It looks as if the house doesn't have a hearth to keep it warm... no, maybe I mean a heart. At least there should be something to bind the people who live in it a little more closely together in the morning."

"You'll be having breakfast all the time time at home soon," Mrs. Merrymann said, with a quiet assurance that surprised Sue.

"Not much! Barbara doesn't get up until noon. The lunch counter isn't going to forget me."

Again there was that queer look on his face and Sue smiled to herself.

"But she'll get up to get breakfast for you if you ask her to," Mrs. Merrymann went on, deliberately, and Sue wondered. "She may tire of it later, but she'll enjoy it at first. You'll find out."

Jack shook his head. "She does not enjoy anything that wakens her before 11 o'clock. I've found that out." He gave Sue a disarming smile as her mother poured him another cup of coffee.

A few minutes later, Sue nestled down in corner of the roadster, pulling the dark fur of her collar around her face, and watched the blizzard. The world was as bright as a new Christmas tree that had never been spun before. Life was glorious. When Jack let

GOVERNMENT MAY BUY BIG PART OF PACIFIC GRAPES

Growers, However, Must Agree to Pool 85 Per Cent of Crop for U. S.

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1930, By Com. Press
New York —(CPA)—Edward M. Boland, of Fresno, Cal., large scale operator in California fruits and widely known in the trade as exporter and importer, explained here Monday the situation growing out of the new government paternalism in the handling of this year's 75,000,000 California grape crop.

According to Mr. Boland, Wednesday will be the critical date which will determine whether Washington will carry through on the most unique economic venture ever undertaken by a national administration. This is the day for the showdown on whether the grape growers will have agreed to pool 85 per cent of this year's tonnage for purchase by the government, which will make cream of tartar, syrups, grape juice and other non-intoxicating by-products out of such surplus from the yield which does not find its way through the usual channels. To date about 60 per cent have been signed up. Mr. Boland produced telegrams from California associates showing that an aggressive drive was being made for the remaining percentage and that undoubtedly it could be obtained. In this event, the government will find itself embarked upon various kinds of new business enterprises, having already financed a company which owns the factories for turning out the grape by-products.

FAILS TO PROPHECY

Mr. Boland would offer no conjecture as to whether the government was interested in diverting the grapes from devious and dangerous channels of fermentation into safe and sane cream of tartar by-ways. "Ordinarily the percentage of grapes used for wine making is about 60 per cent," he said. "This year, it probably will be somewhat less, as there is an extraordinarily large crop—2,500,000 tons—and the demand for wine grapes remains about the same. In lean years there is a demand for table grapes and raisins to piece out the supply of wine grapes, but we do not anticipate such a demand this year."

"Before prohibition, growers received from $8 to $12 per ton. Last year they received $25. This year, on account of the heavy crop, they probably will get a little less. While the growers already have managed a reasonable deflation of excessive land values, immediately following the start of prohibition, their need for government aid was due to a general over-production. The farm board already has loaned $8,000,000, with decidedly beneficial results, to retire the indebtedness of the Sun Maid raisin growers.

MUST DELIVER CROP

Confirmation of these appointments is, of course, contingent upon the growers being able to deliver 85 per cent of their tonnage next Wednesday. Personally, I think they will succeed in this.

"California fruit growers are eagerly watching the results to follow the enactment of the new tariff bill. Our prune surplus, some raisins and vast quantities of canned goods are shipped to other countries. We are hoping, of course, that our shipments will not run afoul of any retaliator tariffs and we are waiting to see just what benefits will accrue to us from our higher tariff rates."

In the past, the hand of the government has rested but lightly on those bent on diverting the purple flow from California into the cellars of Greenwich village or of West Madison-st. Chicago. With prohibition enforcement shifting to the department of justice, there has been an announcement of any new policy in this regard.

While $75,000,000 is not a large amount in the national budget, it is, however, more than the annual California gold output, in the Sutter Creek days, and it will be interesting to observe how many citizens become cream of tartar addicts, due to the government's dive into business.

They cannot be calm and reasonable no matter how they may be urged to be so by calm and reasonable teachers and parents.

"Why must you overdo everything? Always so extreme! Last week you pushed dancing class. You couldn't be pushed into going. Now this week you want me to stop everything and get you ready an hour ahead of time. Help yourself. Your things are ready. Why all this excitement?"

"I cannot understand you, Donald. Only this morning you said you would never, never speak to Sam again and now you want to stop overnight with him after having put in the entire day playing with him."

er legislative business and might suffer the same fate as the world court protocol which has been drifting from place to place on the legislative calendar for the last several years.

Senator Elihu Johnson of California, who is leading the opposition to the treaty, is resourceful and alert. He is counting on the disinclination of senators to stay in Washington during the summer to be largely instrumental in blocking action at this time. This much is sure—if a quorum of the senate stays here they cannot but act within the next two weeks. A filibuster is out of the question. In other words ratification is assured promptly if a quorum can be maintained. This is why telegrams are going out to senators who are absent telling them that their presence will be required only a few days and then they can go home again.

Usually a president is anxious to get rid of congress as quickly as possible. At this time, however, Mr. Hoover is spending every effort to force action so that the whole world may know of America's purposes. He feels he has behind him the public opinion of the country as relatively little dissent has been expressed to the naval treaty. It was this kind of pressure from the executive which brought congress in the line during the Wilson administration and it will be politically a big help to Mr. Hoover if he wins his battle with the senate.

TAX SUIT RULING

Milwaukee—(P)—In a case involving several hundred thousand dollars in taxes Circuit Judge Charles L. Aaron Monday ordered judgment in favor of the Milwaukee Western Fuel company and against Milwaukee. The county sought occupational as well as income taxes from the company, in a suit started about two years ago. The ruling effects all coal dock firms in Wisconsin. The case had been appealed to the supreme court, but never prosecuted there, so the judge made his judgment on his previous ruling Monday.

FRENCH DON'T LIKE AMERICAN REALISM IN "PLAY ACTING"

Favor Artificiality and Believe U. S. People Lack Imagination

Paris—(P)—Eating real food and using wet rainstorms on the stage make the Frenchman think American audiences lack imagination. The French prefer what Americans consider artificiality and "play acting."

France's finest theatre, the Pigalle, called by experts the best-equipped playhouse in the world, is almost ready to give up the ghost because, some critics think it tried to give too much American realism and forgot "the play's the thing."

Gaston Baty, one of the four leaders of theatrical modernism, resigned from management of the Pigalle recently, revealing that this policy of real sand and loud thunderstorms had failed.

Meanwhile, giving emphasis to the difference in the American and the French theatre, an address at the Sorbonne by Carol M. Sax, the Baltimore producer, explained somewhat the Pigalle's failure, not then generally known, by describing the psychology of French audiences.

Sax, who established an American theatre here, giving a series of six plays for ten days or two weeks each, realized his company must change its American methods slightly to satisfy the Americans, which were 60 per cent French but learned the gap couldn't be entirely bridged.

"A typical American theatre-goer," said Sax, "prefers a naturalistic play but even when he goes to see 'modern' drama he wishes to believe in the reality of what he sees. He wants to be convincing and he would like to forget he is in a theatre watching actors perform."

"Not so with the French. To them the theatre is the theatre. They love truly artistic theatricality. The French scenery is scenery and they make not the slightest demand that they be deceived into thinking it is anything else. And above all, acting and they glory in it as such."

The implication was that French actors could make an audience believe it was raining merely telling them so, because French audiences had sufficient imagination.

HEAD RULING HEART

"Ten years ago I was engaged to a man who came to me two weeks before the wedding was to have taken place and asked to be released from his promise. Naturally I gave him his freedom, but I was terribly hurt, not only because of my pride but because I was sincerely in love with him. Since then I've absolutely put men out of my life."

"I've devoted myself to work and have become so successful that, economically at least, there's no reason why I should ever marry. Last Christmas I met a man who became interested in me and wants me to marry him. So far I have not allowed myself to consider him seriously, though I do feel that I might come to care for him a great deal."

"Maybe it's a case of 'once bitten, twice shy,' anyway I frankly admit that I'm afraid to love again. In view of my disastrous experience don't you think I'm right to be distrustful to stick to my decision to keep heartwhole and fancy free?"

You may be right and you may be wrong. What is more to the point is that you can't decide with your mind what course your heart will take.

Your experience has not been calculated to make you believe everything a man tells you and that is a VERY GOOD THING. On the other hand, you must remember that it is just as great a mistake to be too cynical as too credulous. IT IS NOT

BALLOONISTS TELL OF GUN ATTACK IN SOUTH

Hopkinsville, Ky.—(P)—A dramatic story of having been forced to ascend rapidly to an altitude of more than 12,000 feet when a farmer at a village near Little Rock, Ark., took pot shots at their balloon, was told Monday by George Hineman, pilot, and Milford Vanik, aide, of the United Van Service balloon, one of the balloons to take off in the national elimination balloon race starting at Houston, Texas, July 4.

United Van Service balloon landed in a field near Kirksmanville late Sunday and the pilots came to Hopkinsville to spend the night.

THREE-CORNERED RACE APPEARS FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

John Reynolds Announces
Last Week He Will Seek Reelection

BY EWALD L. ALMEN
Madison —(P)— Attorney General John Reynolds' decision to run for reelection, appropriation of additional funds for the Horicon marsh dam and the signing of several highway contracts were among the highlights of events at the state capitol during the past week.

The attorney general's announcement effectively dispelled all rumors that he would withdraw to leave the field clear for Alvin Reis, Madison attorney and Progressive floor leader during the last legislature. Inasmuch as Assemblyman Reis has indicated that he does not intend to withdraw from the contest, a three-cornered race is in prospect for the Republican nomination at the primary election. Opposing Reynolds and Reis will be Michael Eberlein, Shawano, the Conservatives' choice for the post.

The Horicon marsh project, which has occupied the attention of citizens since territorial days, received additional biographical data during the week. After a conference with the budget director and members of the conservation and railroad commissions, Gov. Kohler approved an appropriation of $15,000 to be used in the construction of a dam at one end of the marsh. The dam will restore the original water level and make possible a rejuvenation of the "hunters' paradise."

Approximately nine miles of future concrete road was added to the state's highway system last week by the governor's signature. Three contracts specifying paving and other improvements were signed by the chief executive. More than $213,000 was allotted for the work. Approval of a contract for building an addition to the horticultural building at the state fair grounds was also given by Gov. Kohler.

A report submitted by a joint committee of Texas and Wisconsin business men practically assured the end of the long controversy between the two states over the sale of Texas lands to Wisconsin residents. Following a storm of protest, caused by the refusal of the Wisconsin Real Estate Brokers' board to grant a license to a Texas land firm, Gov. Kohler appointed a committee which met with one named by Gov. Dan Moody. The joint committee agreed to the establishment of a source of information to which prospective buyers of Texas land might turn for advice.

"The state versus Iowa county," was the lineup last week after the attorney general's department was ordered into action by Gov. Kohler. For their failure to recognize an assessment of $18,500, fixed as the county's share of the cost of constructing a bridge across the Wisconsin river, Iowa county officials must appear in circuit court to show cause why action to compel payment should not be instituted. The county board and the county clerk will appear late this month on the order of Circuit Judge Sherman E. Smalley.

Four appointments were effected by the governor during the week. Most important was the appointment of L. L. Darling, Fort Atkinson, as successor to County Judge John G. Conway, Jefferson, who recently resigned because of ill health. Lloyd W. Birkett, Milwaukee, was appointed to the state board of accountancy and William F. Hart, Eau Claire, was reappointed to the state athletic commission. Leslie G. Mulzer, Wisconsin Rapids, was appointed major in the air service on the governor's staff.

The state citizens committee on crime and criminal justice met in the capitol last week, this time to hear Dr. Hastings Hart, penologist of the Russell Sage foundation, New York. The committee also agreed to split into subcommittees to study individual phases of problems of penal and correctional institutions.

Congressman James A. Frear, Hudson, was the first of Wisconsin's congressmen to file nomination papers for reelection. Rep. Frear, who up to the present time has no opposition, will run in the 10th Wisconsin district.

ITALY REPLIES TO BRIAND PROPOSAL

Ready to Discuss "United States" but Lists Special Principles

Rome — (AP) — The reply of the Italian government to the memorandum of the French foreign minister, M. Briand, on an organization of a "United States of Europe" Monday was handed to the French chargé d'affaires here. It declares Italy is willing to participate in discussions.

The memorandum of reply expresses the view of Italy that special principles must be observed as a basis for the discussions leading to formation of such a union. The Italian principles are:

First, a system of cooperation founded on the idea of a nation and not on that of unity and wheels will be respected the absolute sovereignty and political independence of all states.

On this principle Italy wishes to give further interpretation that the rights of all minor states will be guaranteed and that the law line of demarcation between victor and conquered peoples will be eliminated.

Secondly, Russia and Turkey should be invited to take part in the procedure of organization of the union.

Thirdly, "Not to invite these two countries is in contradiction with the scope of European solidarity which you wish to reach," the memorandum says. "The lack of an invitation at this time will produce the alienation of these two countries later."

TURKISH TROOPS MOVE TO EXTERMINATE KURDS

Istanbul, Turkey — (AP) — The Turkish government Monday claimed that its soldiers were closing in on rebel Kurds entrenched on Mount Ararat, and that the Kurds faced extermination.

Angora dispatches said that Turkish airplanes had bombed them, and that they now found escape in the direction of Persia impossible.

The government hoped through its campaign to break the power of the fierce Djellal and Hajarani tribes, the latter numbering about 5,000, who for centuries have maintained a stronghold on Mount Ararat, descending each spring to plunder nearby villages.

The Turkish press is developing a distinctly bitter anti-Persian tone in connection with the fighting. The Kurds are native to a section which is in both Persia and Asiatic Turkey.

HARRY LANGDON WINS JUDGMENT IN SUIT

Los Angeles — (AP) — The superior court Monday returned a judgment in favor of Harry Langdon, screen comedian, who was sued by Thomas J. O'Brien, an engraver, for $11,500, alleging the actor stole the love of his former wife, who is now Mrs. Langdon.

Texas Christian university has bought for $100 six old Bibles, one of which was printed in 1491.

RHEUMATIC PAINS ARE BANISHED BY MODERN REMEDY

Sufferings of Ten Years Ended When Konjola Is Given a Chance

MRS. FRANK BIEMERET

Konjola is designed to give complete and lasting relief, and the thousands of endorsements from those who have put it to the test prove that Konjola does its work well. Mrs. Frank Biemeret, 627 South Roosevelt street, Green Bay, Wisconsin, says about Konjola:

I suffered ten years from rheumatism in my legs. Walking was difficult and painful, and the pain caused me many sleepless nights. I was unable to climb the stairs in my home. Konjola soon put me on my feet, and I resumed work as a saleslady. I have energy to spare, and am no longer bothered by rheumatic pains. Konjola does all that it is designed to do and more.

Thousands of others have the same story to tell about the proven merits of Konjola. All wish they had tried it in the first place. Konjola may be just the medicine you need; can you afford to neglect giving it a trial? A fair trial of from six to eight bottles is recommended. Konjola is sold in Appleton, Wis., at Schlicht Bros. drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Senators Again Take Lead In American League Chase

STEAL HALF GAME MARCH ON CHAMPS; TROUNCE RED SOX

Robins Take Full Game Lead Over Chicago Cubs in National League

Associated Press Sports Writer
AIDED by the schedule makers, Walter Johnson today had his sensational Washington Senators out in front in the hectic American league pennant scramble for the second time this season.

Because the men who set the playing dates saw fit to give the Athletics a day of rest yesterday and at the same time let the Senators play the Red Sox, Washington is leading the champions by one-half game as the result of an 8 to 1 triumph over Boston. In defeating the Red Sox, the Senators accounted for their eighth consecutive victory—the third time this season they have run their string of victories to eight.

To Alvin Crowder, the St. Louis Browns' castoff, goes much of the credit for Washington's victory over the Sox. The former St. Louis hurler set the Sox down with eight scattered hits and did not issue a base on balls to win his fifth straight game since joining the Senators.

The badly crippled Indians dropped a few more points off their percentage column, when they fell before the St. Louis Browns 6 to 1. The visitors got to Pete Jablonowski and Bevilacqua for eleven hits.

A Mexican standoff was the result of the Detroit-Chicago doubleheader, the Tigers taking the first 3 to 2 behind the good pitching of Earl and Whitell, but losing the second 9 to 5. Whitell held the Sox to four hits but the Sox managed to stay in the battle until the tenth inning because Dutch Henry did a good job of keeping the Tigers' 12 hits scattered. In the second encounter, ability to take advantage of Detroit's loose fielding gave the White Sox the decision.

ROBINS WIN AGAIN
Babe Herman's powerful bat gave the Brooklyn Robins a full game advantage over the Cubs as the National league champions lost while the pace setters were trimming the Boston Braves, 2 to 1.

A home run off Herman's bat, which was preceded by a double converted into a run when Wright singled to give the Robins the decision and Boston losing the second 9 to 5. Whitell held the Sox to four hits but the Sox managed to stay in the battle until the tenth inning because Dutch Henry did a good job of keeping the Tigers' 12 hits scattered. In the second encounter, ability to take advantage of Detroit's loose fielding gave the White Sox the decision.

The Cubs looked just like another ball club as they dropped their third straight to the floundering Cincinnati Reds. The score was 4 to 2. Pat Malone pitched one-hit ball for five innings but weakened in the sixth and seventh long enough to let the Reds hit three triples and a single and score four runs.

A modern game of baseball was played at Philadelphia, where the Giants defeated the Phillies 13 to 12 in a slugfest that brought five New York and three Philadelphia pitchers to the mound. Among the 38 hits collected by the two teams were Klein's twenty-fourth home run of the season and another hit of the season variety from Frank O'Doul.

The Cardinals' march up the standings was halted by the Pittsburgh Pirates, who won 9 to 5 behind the steady southpaw pitching of Larry French. The Cards had won five straight games. Sunny Jim Bottomley and Gus Suhr hit home runs.

KING TUT, FLOWERS TO MEET FOR FOURTH TIME
Milwaukee — (AP) — For the fourth time, King Tut, Minneapolis lightweight and Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle, N. Y., Negro, meet tonight in a scheduled 10-round fight.

The King enters the ring a favorite, having won a decision and a draw in previous fights with the New Yorker. Their last bout ended when Tut fouled Flowers.

The fights tonight were expected to draw a crowd of about 6,000 to the south side ball park.

Flowers and Tut are slated to weigh 140 pounds.

Dave Miller, Milwaukee, is scheduled to box 10 rounds with Jack Barry, Chicago, at 178 pounds in the semi-windup of the card. Edouard Rand, European welterweight champion, will make his second American appearance, in an eight-round fight with Jimmy Evans, Los Angeles.

STAGE BENEFIT SCRAP FOR BLIND FIGHTER
Chicago — (AP) — Boxers of main-event calibre tomorrow night will give Walcott Langford, promising negro middleweight of a year ago the chance to knock out the blindness that floored him recently.

A costly surgical operation which Langford could not afford might bring back his sight.

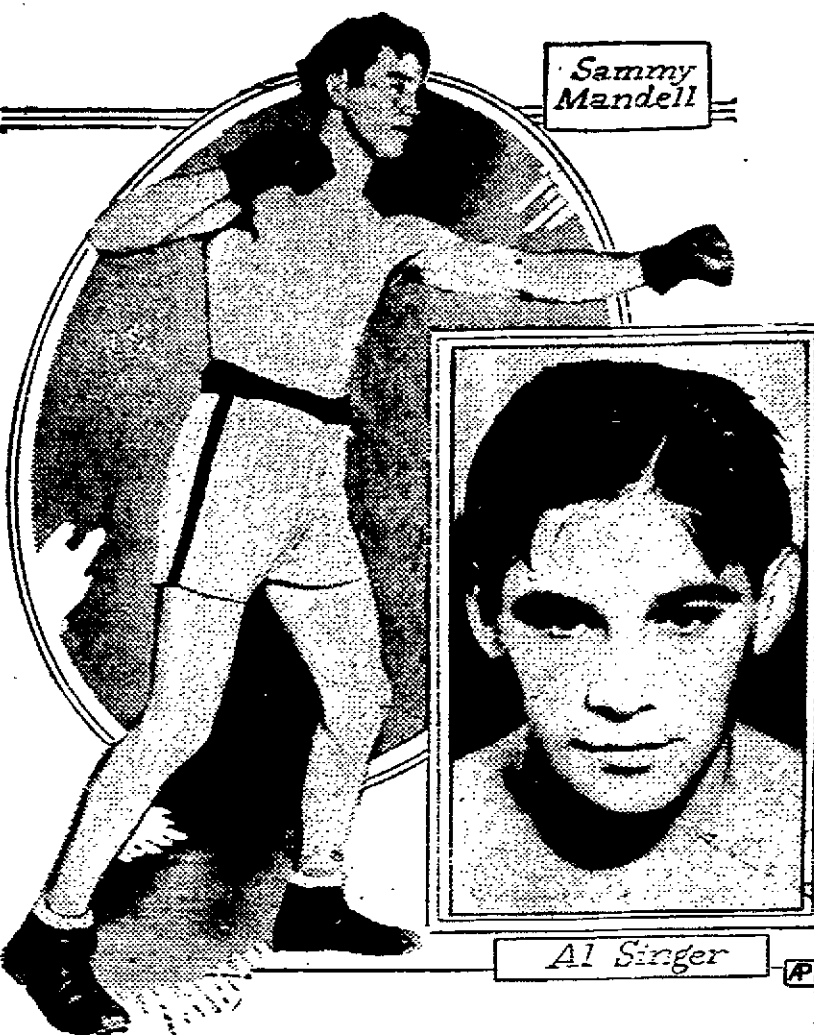

A card of 13 three-round no-decision bouts has been arranged for Barry's gym, the proceeds to make up an operation fund for Langford.

Tuffy Griffith, Sioux City, Ia., heavyweight contender, Larry Johnson, negro light heavyweight, and Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., and Earl Mastro, Chicago, ranking featherweights, are among the stars who will appear on the card.

PORTUGAL BOXER ARRIVES IN U. S.
New York — (AP) — A rival of Primo Carnera, in size at least, has arrived in the United States for a whirl at the boxing business as it is conducted here.

Jose Santa of Portugal, arrived on the Olympic yesterday. He is six feet eight and one-half inches tall, has confessed, weighs 255 pounds, has a reach of 80½ inches and wears 13 shoes.

Singer's Title Hopes Undimmed

Al Singer, New York battler, and Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, who will battle for the title on July 17 at Yankee stadium. Mandell is confident of an easy victory over his old rival.

Uncle Robinson Believes Brooklyn Will Win Flag

Copyright 1930 by Cons. Press

NEW YORK — "We didn't quit the Fourth of July flyin' high enough," said Uncle Wubert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Robins, in talking over his league leaders' standing today. "But we expect to speed again and we have got a better chance to win the pennant right now than we've had since we won in 1920."

"The batting is what has been taken in us along; that and some good pitched games. We couldn't hit much last year when we needed it and most of the time the boys didn't seem to care whether they did much teamwork with the stick or not, because we couldn't get going no matter how hard we tried."

"Say, these birds are team working with the bat now. They can't do much of it. Got this big Ike Boone from California. You saw what he did Sunday. A homer and a single and a flying catch that set the fans wild."

"Say, it's goin' to be a tough fight down to the finish. I think some of those second division clubs are goin' to play better ball a little later."

"This Boston National league club has grown to be a full size club. Now don't you make any mistake an' rate it too low. D' you know that Boston has outplayed the Giants, outplayed us, outplayed Pittsburgh, about broken even with Philadelphia, outplayed Cincinnati and only been knocked galley scotin' by St. Louis and Chicago. Say, that ain't the way the Boston club has played in the past. You know those birds are better now than they were early in the season. I hope they pick on the other clubs that we've had as they have picked on us, that's all I hope. If they do we got a chance. We got a chance, you know. We got a bat out, I'm sure of that. If I had pitchers—say that's all you hear nowadays. Every manager says, 'If I had pitchers.'"

"I'm converted. I don't pay no more attention to this yawp about the ball. It's pitchers. They ain't pro'ly as good as any more. I guess they ain't born. We gotta raise 'em like they raise race horses."

"How many games do you think it will take to win the pennant this year?"

"Les see. We have 42 games won till today. We ought to have 45 won when the season is half over. That would make a total of 90 for the year, wouldn't it? I'm not so sure that we or any other club can win with 90. Guess we better get busy and win about ten games more in the second half of the season than we won in the first half."

"Anyway, we got it on the Cubs. For we finish our season right here at home on Ebbs' field."

BRITISH SPRINTERS PREPARE FOR BATTLE
Chicago — (AP) — British sprinters will face the most formidable array of dashmen the United States can offer in the international track and field meet on Soldier Field the night of August 7.

F. S. Schmidt, coach at Texas Christian university, has notified J. Lyman Bingham, general chairman of the meet, that Cy Leland has decided to pass up a Caribbean trip to prepare himself for the invasion of the British. George Simpson of Ohio State, Frank Wyckoff of Southern California, Eddie Tolon, University of Michigan, Negro, Al Topping of Loyola, New Orleans, and Claude Bracey of Rice Institute, all previously had entered their names.

JONES HOME-COMING TO BE LEGAL HOLIDAY
Atlanta — (AP) — Bobby Jones, who already can have anything in Atlanta, was all but given title and deed to the place for one day by official act of the city council.

A resolution passed unanimously yesterday officially declares July 14, the day Bobby returns from his golfing walks in Europe, an "Atlanta day," a legal holiday. It urged citizens generally to observe the day as such and called upon businessmen to close shop so that Bobby might be cheered as every citizen worth cheer him.

WOULD RECOGNIZE KENOSHANS RECORD
Kenosha — (AP) — Officials of the Mississippi Valley Power Boat association today took steps to obtain official sanction from the National Outboard association for recognition of a mark set on a seven-mile course by Tom Estick, Naukegan, Ill., who shot his outboard over the distance in 10:11 in the final races held under the auspices of the American Legion. Estick's time was a reputed record for the distance.

SONNENBERG, LEWIS FIGHT DECLARED DRAW
Seattle, Wash. — (AP) — Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg, regarded as world's heavyweight wrestling champion, drew a majority of states and Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world champion, wrestled eight rounds to a draw here last night under Australian rules.

MANDELL, SINGER TO MEET IN YANKEE STADIUM, JULY 17

Sammy Starts Consistent Training to Defend Lightweight Title

BY WILBUR WOOD
Copyright 1931, by Cons. Press.
RANGEBURG, N. Y. — (CPA) — Sammy Mandell, who celebrated his fourth anniversary as lightweight champion last Thursday, is ready to get down to the real business of training for his fourth appearance in defense of the title against Al Singer at the Yankee stadium on July 17.

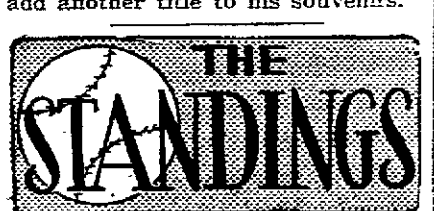

Mandell is only 26 years old, but already he ranks as a seasoned veteran. It was not until a year after Sammy was seated on the throne that Singer appeared in the professional ring. The Bronx boy today is the same age as was Mandell when he took the title.

At the time Mandell won a close decision to take the laurels from the thirty-one-year-old Rocky Kansas the boxing world was disposed to regard him as a cheese champion. Sammy has changed that opinion, though he has not been overly busy in defense of the title. In the sun's annual national boxing consensus, last December the Rockford sheik finished with a percentage of 99.6. No other boxer of any weight surpassed that mark and only one, Mickey Walker, equaled it.

The fight that convinced the ringworms that Mandell really belonged at the head of the parade was his decisive victory over Jimmy McLarnin in New York early in the spring of 1928. The Vancouver Irishman had been knocking over all comers and many expected him to give Sammy the same treatment.

That fight was much like the first Turner-Dempsey affair. McLarnin, like Dempsey, had the knockout wallop, but could not link it up with Mandell's chin and when it was all over the champion was still smiling in his debonair fashion, while Jimmy's face was badly cut up through contact with Sammy's lightning straight left.

Sammy's only concern now is his weight. Making 135 points is no cinch for him these days, regardless of what he may say for publication. When, and if, he loses the championship he probably will move into the welterweight sector to try to add another title to his souvenirs.

BELIEVE TILDEN WILL TAKE BERTH ON TENNIS TEAM

American Star Seriously Considering Play in Davis Cup Matches

BY LAWRENCE PERRY
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press.
NEW YORK — (CPA) — Joseph Wear, chairman of the United States Davis cup committee, had a telephone conversation Sunday night with Fitz-Eugene Dixon, non-playing captain of the American Davis cup team, who is in London with the United States outfit.

The subject of the talk, of course, was the result of Dixon's pow-wow with big Bill Tilden on Sunday relative to his playing against France in the Davis cup challenge round as a representative of this country.

While definite information was not available this morning, the understanding is that Tilden is considering a definite invitation extended by the American captain on behalf of the Davis cup committee to accept the No. 1 position on the American team in the international finals at the Roland Garros stadium in Paris.

There is hardly a possibility that Tilden refuse his country's call. And this is what it amounts to—a definite call to the great veteran to accept the No. 1 position on the American team in the international finals at the Roland Garros stadium in Paris.

So unless he has changed utterly he will respond in his spectacular way to his country's need and his play will be marked by a verve, a fire whose ardent flames even Cochet will find difficulty in subduing, if indeed he will find himself able to subdue them.

Tilden, with all his European peregrinations and international viewpoints thus acquired, is above all a patriot. And then, too, the present emergency, so dramatic in all its phases, could appeal to no one more strongly than to Tilden.

So unless he has changed utterly he will respond in his spectacular way to his country's need and his play will be marked by a verve, a fire whose ardent flames even Cochet will find difficulty in subduing, if indeed he will find himself able to subdue them.

Tilden's presence on the Davis cup team would improve our chances of bringing the Davis cup back to this country, would perhaps put us in the position of favorite against France. In any case the United States would enter the match upon far better terms than seemed possible when the team set forth across the Atlantic.

As for Tilden, his spectacular comeback at Wimbledon, fighting his way through a formidable list of opponents; aligns him with Bobby Jones as the outstanding athletic figure of the current year. Indeed, their conduct in play, their sportsmanship, their winning personalities as well as their prowess on court and link have made them significant figures outside the realm of sport.

For, certainly, a nation gains credit when men such as these go aboard to carry their exploits.

Tilden last won at Wimbledon nine years ago, in 1921. Since 1923, when William Johnston won honors there, France has ruled alone.

Borotra won in 1925 and 1926; Lacoste in 1925 and 1928; Cochet in 1927 and 1929. Tilden won his first national title at the age of twenty-seven in 1920, defeating William Johnston. He has captured in all seven national titles. Moore Wins Another For Saints; May Return To Major League Next Year

St. Paul Takes Victory from Kansas City; Louisville Retains Lead

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago — (AP) — Wilsey Moore, the sinker-ball artist who once performed for the New York Yankees, apparently has accomplished the job of pitching himself back into the major leagues.

Moore, who has been voluntarily retired, decided to try again this year and joined up with St. Paul of the American association. Yesterday Larry Sutton, scout for the National league leading Brooklyn Robins, approached president Bob Conery of the Saints, on the subject of selling Moore, who had just been credited with his seventeenth victory of the season. The former Yankee failed to finish yesterday's game, but the Saints won, 13 to 8, over Kansas City. Moore has performed sensationally this season, losing but three games while winning seventeen.

RETAIN BIG LEAD
Louisville retained its six and one-half game margin over the Saints by hammering out a 11 to 6 victory over Columbus. The Colonels leaped on to Dick Wyckoff, and Davis and Maxton for their 11 runs in the first three innings and coasted in. Guy Williams lasted less than five innings for Louisville, but received credit for the victory.

Tom Jenkins' homer with two on in the ninth gave Milwaukee a 5 to 4 decision over Minneapolis, and ended the Millers' string of victories at seven straight. Minneapolis scored three runs in the eighth to take the lead, but Rube Benton was not equal to the task of stalling the Brewers in their final inning attempt. John Buid held the Millers to six hits, but caused himself trouble by issuing eight bases on balls. Sergeant George Connolly outpitched Oral Hildebrand and Milwaukee to give Toledo a 9 to 1 victory over Indianapolis in a night contest. The Sarge fanned nine men and restricted the Indians to seven hits. Indianapolis gave a miserable fielding exhibition, seven misplays being charged to Red Corriden's club.

COGGESHALL, BROWN ENTER TOURNAMENT
Des Moines, Ia. — (AP) — The scheduled appearance of Harris Coggeshall, Des Moines, western champion and Wray Brown, St. Louis, defending champion in the Missouri Valley Tennis tournament added interest in today's matches. The former will meet T. W. Bailer, Des Moines, in a first round match while Brown went into the third round by virtue of a bye and a default. Bruce Barnes, Austin, Texas, another favorite, was scheduled to play Ted Lovejoy of Des Moines.

Johnny Tatem, Omaha, Filipino, established himself as a strong contender yesterday, defeating Down Buckroyd, Des Moines, in a second round match and applying for the initial round with a bye. Tatem won the midwest tournament at Omaha last week.

Junior Cohen, Kansas City, eighth ranking player in the country, arrived yesterday with a sore arm which will keep him out of all competition except the doubles in which he is teamed with Coggeshall. The pair drew a bye in the first round.

INVEST HUGE AMOUNT FOR RACING SLOOPS

Newport, R. I. — (CPA) — It has been estimated that approximately $3,000,000 has been invested in four class J sloops and their attendant fleets of tenders and mother ships.

While this group of boats will for years form a great racing class, they have been launched with the primary object of defending the America's cup against the challenge of Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V., and today the selection committee of the New York Yacht club will begin the official gathering of evidence that will end with the elimination of three of the four.

All that has gone before—there have been seven races for the class plus Vanitie and Resolute—has, while under the eyes of the selection committee, been without official significance. Of course it cannot be denied that the outstanding work of Westamce and Enterprise, especially the latter, which has not finished worse than second, has been noted. From now on with the exception of the New York Yacht club cruise, every race in which the candidates take part is vitally important.

EXPORT MOVEMENT OF GOLD IS NEAR, BANKERS BELIEVE

French Exchange at New York Is Very Near Gold Point on Monday

BY PRESTON KRECKER
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
Wall Street—(CPA)—French exchange on New York Monday was so near the gold point that the possibility of an export movement of the precious metal is the subject of more than one academic discussion. A fraction further rise in the franc rate would unquestionably render it more profitable for bankers to ship gold than to buy exchange.

All appears to depend now on whether the demand for franc exchange, which has caused it to advance sharply, will continue. That is something which only events will determine.

That the demand here for French franc exchange is more or less closely linked with the French buying of gold in London is the Wall Street theory. France's appetite for gold apparently is insatiable. Paris has been buying British Gold for weeks, with the result that all of the bank of England's fine gold has been exhausted, according to cable advice.

As an outcome the bank of England has begun selling "standard" gold to the French. Standard gold, however, is not accepted by the bank of France in that form because it lacks the necessary fineness. The refining of standard is of course an expense which the buyer must pay, with the result that it has become less profitable to buy gold in London than it was before the bank of England ceased selling fine gold.

It may be that the French are planning to buy gold here instead of in London.

MOVEMENT STOPPED

Should gold be shipped to Paris from New York, it would be the first gold export flow to Europe since January. The movement of gold this year has been quite the reverse of predictions made after the stock market broke last autumn. It then was thought that America would lose a great deal of the precious metal. Gold did start to flow from New York to Europe immediately after the market's collapse. Altogether France took $55,400,000, while London took $21,000,000 in the last two months of 1929.

Wall Street expected the movement to continue this year, but very little gold was shipped out of the United States after the first of January. On the contrary a golden stream began to flow into this country and continued in such volume that by the end of June America had imported $207,000,000 net in the yellow metal. Nearly all of it came from Japan and South America. While Europe did not ship much, the main point is that she did not take any more from us.

This country could easily afford to export gold. At of April 30 last, the gold holdings of the United States amounted to $4,491,336,199.

The latest statement of the federal reserve board shows that the reserve banks hold $2,995,409,000 of that total. Of the gold held by the reserve system about $950,000,000 is free gold, or gold not required as reserves, and therefore could easily be spared.

The gold of the world is far from equitably distributed. This country owns about one half of the total. France has been accumulating gold in a way that has aroused great curiosity as to the motives actuating that country. The gold holdings of the bank of France have increased steadily for months and now are about $250,000,000 larger than they were a year ago. The bank of England on the other hand has been losing gold to both France and Germany, so that its gold hoard is less now than it was a year ago. The Reichsbank of France, has been accumulating gold and now possesses about $299,000,000 more than it did a year ago.

DROP 2 OF 4 COUNTS AGAINST AL CAPONE

REVIVAL MEETING IN TENT ANNOYS BADGER CITIZENS

Platteville—(P)—A petition was circulated here Monday by Platteville citizens who said they were irritated by too loud praying and singing at a tent revival meeting.

The objectors to the nocturnal religious demonstrations said the sect staging the meetings made all sorts of unearthly noises. Moans and groans made by those at the wailers' bench in the tent were said to disturb the sleep of tired sinners. The objectors threatened to carry their petition to the city council to halt the meetings unless they quieted down.

PARIS MAKES ALL THINGS SEASONABLE

Now They Are Taking Velvet Hats and Wearing Them in Summer

BY ALFRED LAMONT
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
New York—(CPA)—The real secret of Paris fashions is to take unseasonable things and make 'em seasonable. For instance, velvet hats for summer. Nothing could be more lovely, or more uncomfortable, but since Paris says they're "in," velvet hats it is. All right. You wear 'em with organdie frocks and trim 'em with flowers, and they're large enough to keep you in a nice, warm shade.

London has gone in a large way for the hip-length evening coats. These usually match the frock, and if there's anything prettier at the moment than a white evening gown with a short, white, transparent velvet coat, then London would like to know about it.

There are so many varieties of heel this season, that a set of guiding rules is needed. And here they are. Flat heels for real sports wear; low cubans for street and speed; sports; high cubans with informal afternoon clothes; and high French heels for formal occasions, either afternoon or evening.

MILK CONSUMPTION TOO SMALL, CLAIM

Lower Than in Several Other Civilized Countries, Says Dairy Chief

BY RUBY A. BLACK
(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—The consumption of dairy products in the United States can be greatly increased, said O. E. Reed, Chief of the Bureau of Dairy Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture, today while discussing the work of his bureau at the California State Milk-Control Conference in Sacramento, Calif.

Stating that few foodstuffs are delivered so quickly and cleanly to consumers as is milk, Reed continued:

"The per-capita consumption of milk in this country is much lower than it is in several other of the civilized nations. Our bureau is serving both the economic interest of the dairy industry and the nutritional interests of consumers."

The Bureau of Dairy Industry is investigating dairy sanitation and devising and introducing new and better methods of producing and handling fluid milk and cream. The Bureau is particularly interested in the cooling of milk and cream to prevent bacteria growth and in the delivery of the milk and cream. It also helps State and local authorities to formulate legislation and ordinances for safeguarding dairy supplies.

Mr. Reed particularly emphasized the importance of herd improvement by associations of dairymen to the dairy industry as a whole.

The work of the dairy-herd-improvement associations enables the dairymen to know the production of each cow in his herd and the cost of the production to him in food, he said. It makes it possible too, for him to feed himself of low producers and to feed and breed the rest according to their capacity for economical production.

Reed said that at the beginning of 1930 there were more than 500,000 cows being tested by about 1,150 associations. The average milk production of these cows was 7,464 pounds and the average butterfat was 2.95

Berlin's Underworld Is Organized Into Bourse

Berlin—(P)—To what extent the underworld is organized in the German metropolis may be judged from the beggars' bourse and kindred institutions for the brotherhood of alms seekers in the city's slums and elsewhere.

The bourse is known only to the initiated and accessible through a small and dingy public house which is the nightly rendezvous for the poorer elements—workmen and unemployed, with a plentiful sprinkling of shady characters—all drinking beer and talking at once but always suspiciously sizing up every new comer.

Ever and anon a beggar arrives and with eel-like agility squirms through the motley crowd to a trap-door leading to the "sandwich bourse." Here mendicants representing every conceivable type of suffering sell to the hungry unemployed the bread and sandwiches doled out to them during the day by kind-hearted housewives.

Quotations vary with the season, the colder weather seeing a boom in the proverbial crust of bread. Dry bread is quoted at an average of 2 pfennigs. A slice of bread with jam at 4 pfennigs, with liver sausage at 6 pfennigs, with Swiss cheese at 8 pfennigs and with ordinary sausage only at 5 pfennigs.

In the slums of the city northern section there is also a beggars' bourse, doing a thriving business, especially in the early morning hours, the rush becoming so great by 6 o'clock a. m. that newcomers have to await their turn in a queue.

Here mendicants for a daily fee or a monthly subscription are speedily equipped with all the appurtenances for their calling, ranging from hand organs and lead-dogs for the blind to soles shoes and crutches.

In an obscure street of the fashionable west end, on the other hand is located the well-organized beggars' information bureau, which limping specimens of human misery enter to lay aside their crutches, in which the blind suddenly are able to see and the deaf and dumb start swearing. Here the beginners in the fraternity purchase orderly kept lists of addresses of residents considered easy marks.

INDIANS IN POW-WOW TO TALK IRRIGATION

Gallup, N. M.—(P)—Seeing in white man's medicine something more dependable than the caprices of their rain god, Navajo Indians of six tribal divisions gathered in annual pow-wow today to discuss irrigation.

The policy of fewer dances to placate the deities and more dams to store the water of artesian wells in the canyons of the 12,000,000-acre reservoir, has been proposed.

Tribesmen, half hidden in multi-colored blankets, drove automobiles to Gallup to be present for the discussion of modern methods of making their desert produce.

Dashne-Cha-Ches-Isi, youthful chief of the Navajos, an educated full-blood, was present to preside over the councils of his people.

pounds, representing about 60 per cent more than the average of the 22,000,000 cows counted as dairy cows in the last census.

MISSING BANKER'S BODY RECOVERED

Found Floating in Missouri River—Faced Charges Involving Funds

Omaha, Neb.—(P)—The body of Edward L. Droste, missing vice president of the First National bank of Omaha was found floating in the Missouri river yesterday near Dakota City, Neb. The body was identified as that of Droste by E. F. Jensen, his brother-in-law.

Droste disappeared from Omaha early Wednesday morning and was last seen in Sioux City at noon the same day.

Jensen also identified the signature found on a receipt check for Green, confessed Sunday to robbing a car rented in Omaha on July 3, a jewelry store at Macomah last week and a note written on the back of the check. Richardson named another receipt as being in Droste's hand and a note written on the back of the check. The dead man's clothes were also identified by Jensen.

The car receipt was issued by an Omaha garage to Droste on July 2 and carried that date.

A note written on the back of the slip read: "Grace, darling, forgive me. God bless you—Dad." Grace is the given name of Mrs. Droste.

Droste, the night before his disappearance, had revealed in conversation with Denman Kountze, also an official of the bank, that he "was in trouble to the extent of about $25,000."

Late yesterday a complaint charging him with misapplication of funds totaling $13,750 was filed.

The car in which Droste left Omaha was found last night in a Sioux City garage. It was believed that he leaped to his death from a bridge near Sioux City, Neb., on Thursday.

FIRST LADY RETURNS TO WHITE HOUSE DUTIES

Washington—(P)—Mrs. Hoover presided again today over the social and domestic affairs of the White House.

After more than a month's absence from the executive mansion and three months of virtual seclusion as a result of an injured back suffered in a fall, she returned late Sunday with the president from their Rapidan river lodge.

Her coming was unexpected, although Captain Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, had said last week that she had sufficiently recovered. It had been assumed she would remain in the coolness of the mountains most of the month.

Well and strong again, however, and able once more to take up the chain of activity which she enjoys, Mrs. Hoover decided, herself, to return.

ADmits ROBBERY

Madison—(P)—Sheriff Spauld of Dane co, announced today that Orma Richardson, 20, Springfield found on a receipt check for Green, confessed Sunday to robbing a car rented in Omaha on July 3, a jewelry store at Macomah last week and a note written on the back of the check. NEW LONDON NINE BEATS APPLETON BY 6 TO 4 COUNT

Losers Are Held to One Run Until Rally in Ninth Inning

New London—New London's baseball team defeated Appleton 6-4 on the local grounds Sunday. Appleton was held to one score until the ninth inning, when six hits gave them three runs. New London counted two runs each in the fourth, sixth and eighth innings.

"Pete" Westphal tripped up 10 Appleton batters while King had six strikeouts to his credit. Bedford, an Appleton player, led his team in hitting, getting three of Appleton's 13 hits. Laabs, Tormow, King and Murphy had two hits apiece, while Maule and Kuehnell had one hit each. Gerhman and Pope went hitless. All of the New London players had one hit apiece, with the exceptions of Magolski and Dernbach. Dayton had two hits to his credit.

Errors in the New London infield gave Appleton the first run in the fourth. New London then went to the lead, with Wilson, who was on base, was shoved home by Meyer's triple. Westphal made the second run when he got to first. Meyers being trapped at home on a throw. Pete stole second and went to third on Dobberstein's hit. Caught between the bases Westphal slid under the catcher on a wild pitch.

New London came back in the sixth on two more runs. Meyers, who was on base, went to third on Westphal's double. Magolski's sacrifice fly sent Meyers in. Duffy Edminister's single gave Westphal a chance to score. Appleton had men on bases in the seventh, but their hopes went west when Bud Sweedy made a shoestring catch, his second of the game for the third out. The home team lost a chance to score on their half when Dernbach got around to third base, which base he hugged on Wilson's sacrifice fly.

New London's last runs came in the eighth when Dobberstein got on base on an infield error. One of King's deliveries hit Magolski and, coupled with a wild pitch, sent Dobberstein to third and Magolski to second. There they went home on Bill Dayton's double down the third base line.

The visitors came back strong in their last time at bat when their short stop singled and stole second. He came home on a clean hit over first base. Laabs single chased over another run which batter promptly stole second base. He was brought home by a home run single which went over first base. King, next man up, swung hard, squirted a scratch hit down the third base line and beat the peg to first. Bedford, the next batter, was hit by Westphal and the bases were loaded. Pope, after getting two balls and fouling several times over the grand stand, was struck out to end the game.

New London's team came home first in the ninth inning after spending a pleasant day at the prison city. Incidentally, while they stopped off at the prison to play a game of baseball. The score was 6-0 with the home boys having the zero mark to their credit.

COUZENS CLAIMS BILL WON'T SEND FREIGHT RATES UP

Blames Opposition to Speculative Bankers Through-out Country

BY J. C. Royle
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
Washington—(CPA)—No shipper or carrier of freight charges, directly or indirectly, need worry over increases in cost of railroad freight shipments or feel concerned over any difficulties in railroad transportation. The resolution known as the Couzens resolution, suspending railroad consolidations, has been adopted, according to Senator James Couzens of Michigan, who in a statement Monday outlined the objects of the legislation.

Mr. Couzens declared that it was impossible to avoid the conclusion that the objection to his resolution had its inception among the speculative bankers, "who are interested in the railroads as an opportunity for speculation and gambling rather than service to the public and who are operating through holding companies and similar devices." Mr. Couzens statement says:

"No one who pays the freight need have any worry over any difficulties in railroad transportation in the passage of the resolution known as the Couzens resolution, suspending railroad consolidation.

"The argument advanced after the senate by a large majority had adopted the resolution was to the effect that the entire rate structure was involved and that shippers had cause for concern. This is nothing more than propaganda by interested witnesses.

"I noticed a story in the newspapers that this resolution would affect freight costs and cause considerable disturbance. I noticed that some named economists were supposed to hold that view. Of course, as long as the economists remain unnamed, there is no way they may be identified. I did notice, however, that Walker D. Hines was referred to as 'one of the outstanding authorities in the field of public utilities,' and that his views were given considerable space. Perhaps Mr. Hines was the railroad economist."

"Mr. Hines appeared before the senate committee on interstate commerce as an attorney employed by the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads, and as such he opposed the resolution. Of course, he was an interested witness. His claims, the railroads involved in the proposed merger in the northwest, wanted to delay the resolution. His testimony before the committee and his statements in the newspapers must be judged in that light, although I noticed that the newspaper stories did not mention the particular interest he had.

TALKED SEVERAL DAYS
Mr. Hines was on the stand several days. He did not suggest at any time that the resolution would affect existing rate structures. Just how he arrived at that view after leaving the stand, I do not know. The only time Mr. Hines got close to the rate question was an indefinite suggestion on his part that at some time the public might get the benefits of any economies effected and that the rates might be reduced by degrees as the roads increased their efficiency.

"The so-called 'Couzens resolution' would do this and only this:
"1. Remain effective until next March 4, 1931.
"2. Prohibit consolidations which would be in violation of anti-trust laws. Even herein, certain exemptions for the protection of short line railroads were granted.
"3. Protect the rights of employees. No one had questioned the justice of that provision.
"4. Prevent consolidations or unifications through holding companies where the interstate commerce commission is now powerless to act. The interstate commerce commission is unanimous in its support of that provision.

"This resolution was debated at length in the senate and when the arguments against the resolution were brought into the open and considered, the senate did not hesitate to reject them.

HE BLAMES BANKERS
"What is the objection to this resolution? It is impossible to avoid the conclusion that the speculative bankers who are interested in the railroads as an opportunity for speculation and gambling, rather than for service to the public, and who are operating through holding companies and similar devices, are the real force behind this opposition. What speculative bankers have done to our railroads in the past should warn every shipper and every consumer to beware of them now.

"We have created an interstate commerce commission to regulate our railroads and we have adopted legislation giving the commission certain powers and certain duties. The holding company plan is valuable to speculators, because it evades the power of the commission. If the commission and the plans for regulation adopted in the past are sound, then the holding company operations cannot be defended by anyone interested in railroad service.

"This propaganda relative to freight rate structures being effected can be easily judged in its correct light by anyone who will take one half hour to study the resolution. The propagandists must have something pretty big at stake when they will go to this end to defeat the resolution. It might be well to drive the real interests which are opposing this resolution into the open and let the public see who and what they are."

1st List Of Prize Winners In 4-H Club Contest Will Be Announced July 15

That the Appleton Post-Crescent and the Outagamie county agricultural department activities contest for 4-H clubs of this county is arousing considerable interest is evidenced by the fact that reports of many activities have been received during the last three weeks since the contest was announced. During the last week six clubs met and sent in reports. The previous week there were seven club meetings and the week before that there were six meetings.

The first month's contest closes Thursday. All monthly reports of club activities for June must reach Gus Sell, county agent, on or before that day in order that the club will be eligible to the cash prizes of $3, $2 and $1 which will be given away by the Post-Crescent. Prize winners will be selected as soon as possible after the monthly reports are all in and it is hoped that the first group of winners can be announced Tuesday, July 15.

Clubs should remember that while the reports are important and necessary to make the club eligible for a prize, the most important thing which will be considered in awarding the prizes is the number and worth whiteness of the activities. Scheduled rules of the rules for the contest have been received by every club. All clubs should have them learned by now.

It is necessary to remember two things, however. That is, first, the club should sponsor many worth while activities and second, that these should be reported each week to Gus Sell, county agent. Every Tuesday the Post-Crescent will publish a summary of the previous week's club activities. This is a part of the contest. The monthly awards will then be based on these weekly reports and activities as well as on the monthly summary of activities which is made on the tenth of each month. Cash prizes of $3, $2 and $1 will be awarded each month for four months.

The gold in your heart is of the finest and purest. You are more interested in the laws of God and nature than in the laws of man.

You are too generous with money matters, so one hundred per cent honest, that you will probably never have large material accumulations—and you do not desire them. Although you are imaginative and allow your mind to dwell in your air castles, you can "come to earth," and do some clear concise thinking. You are methodical in your work, and it must be done well to satisfy your own tastes. You have a beautiful love nature, warm and sincere. It is more on a mental and spiritual plane than a physical one. It would make you very unhappy to be married to one of a grosser nature.

Children born on this July 8 will be very easily influenced by others, and until they reach years of discretion, they may easily be led into folly by wrong associates. They will be warm hearted, and generous—affectionate and demonstrative.

You have a very expensive, broad, liberal and magnanimous nature; a very strong individuality and character. You are not bound by the senses, you have more in the mind and higher emotions, the subject of the world being of more importance to you than the objective. Reflection, thoughtfulness, and will-power are stronger than your desire and impulse. It is often difficult for the more material minded to understand your motives and actions as you do not live on the same plane of development. You do not worry about the sins of the flesh. It is the sins of the soul that you combat.

New York—David Lloyd George has an idea about an American president of the future. The New York Times quotes Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson as saying on returning from abroad that the former British prime minister had told him: "The outstanding figure in America politically, in my judgment, is Owen D. Young. I should not be surprised to see him president before I die."

ANNOUNCES START OF BOULDER DAM PROJECT

Washington—(CPA)—Announcing the commencement Monday of construction of the $165,000,000 Boulder Canyon dam project, Secretary Wilbur characterized the work as signifying "our national conquest over the great American desert."

The interior secretary said Walker R. Young, the engineer in charge, was waiting on the ground for telegraphic instructions when President Hoover signed the definite bill containing an item of $10,650,000 for this work.

"With dollars, men and engineering brains," Secretary Wilbur said, "we will build a great natural resource. We will make new geography and start a new era in the southwestern part of the United States."

TELEVISION NOT YET PRACTICAL, SAYS COMMISSION

Visual Art Still in Experimental Stage, Federal Authorities Hold

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
Washington—(CPA)—Television, if you accept the view of the federal commission, is "in a highly experimental stage of development," and few, if any, of the television receiving sets on the market "are of any practical worth other than as a curiosity or novelty."

This "bress tacks" evaluation of the visual art today, is made by the rulers of radio in a statement drawn for the edification of the court of appeals of the District of Columbia. In it the commission states these reasons why it has restricted television operations to "experiments" and has never licensed commercial television broadcasting stations. It states also why it has refused to grant experimental television stations, licenses for regular broadcasting stations which would be used as "sound tracks" and operated in conjunction with the television stations, thereby offering radio-movies.

The commission's views come as a bombshell in the midst of the most significant advances yet in television. It was just weeks ago that lifelike pictures were flashed onto a screen in a theatre in Schenectady-by radio.

And about the same time two firms offered commercial television receivers sets at the annual trade show held at Atlantic City, marking the first display of complete receivers of this nature.

EXPLAINS DECISION
The governmental expression is made to the court in explanation of its adverse decision refusing to grant the Short Wave and Television Laboratory, of Boston, authority to operate a regular broadcasting station as an adjunct or "sound-track" to its experimental television station. The proposed broadcasting station was desired to operate with 100 watts power at night on the 1570 kilocycle channel. The television station, as do all others, operates in the short wave spectrum on one of the five channels set aside for Miss Adela Verne, pianist, will play her own unnamed composition, a march to Col. Lindbergh, over the NBC stations at 8:30 o'clock. Ruth Ewins and Hazel Gein will be the other featured artists on the program.

The last of the Indian programs given by Phebe Jewell Nichols is the story of the Indian lover and carries him through the trials of his wooing and later through the supreme joy of the Chippewa wedding song. The feature will go on the air over WTMJ at 6:30 p. m.

An old favorite, "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling," has been arranged by Vincent Lopez and his orchestra as a part of the program which will be heard at 6 o'clock over NBC stations.

The second program of "Savino Tone Pictures" which was begun last week will feature a thirty-five piece orchestra and a male quartette in a widely varied program of special arrangements. The program can be heard over WBBM and the Columbia stations at 7:30 o'clock.

Philadelphia is honored in the next of the series of tributes to Great television experiments, and entirely divorced from the broadcast or "radio" spectrum.

The spectrum of frequencies from 550 to 1500 kilocycles, the commission tells the court, has been set aside for broadcasting stations.

"None of the frequencies within that spectrum has ever been designated by law or international treaty or by regulations of the commission for use as a sound track for programs to be synchronized with radio visual broadcasts."

Television, the commission adds, "is in a highly experimental stage of development. All licenses for visual broadcasting stations issued by the commission are on an experimental and temporary basis."

All regulations touching the subject of television adopted by the commission up to the present time, it is brought out, have regarded visual broadcasting as an experimental only.

"For this reason the commission felt that the time has not yet come for the adoption of a policy or regulations whereby 'sound tracks' should be provided to accompany television or visual broadcasting."

DENISON RULING TO BE APPEALED, ROVER SAYS

Washington—(AP)—Leo A. Rover, district attorney, said Monday he planned to appeal the recent decision of Justice Gordon in sustaining a demurrer to an indictment against Representative Denison, Republican, Illinois, charging possession of liquor.

Justice Gordon of the district supreme court, ruled the indictment failed to meet the requirement that a defendant be advised particularly of the charge against him.

Representative Denison was indicted last November after prohibition agents reported the finding of a trunk containing liquor in Denison's office. The Illinois representative denied the liquor belonged to him and said the baggage had been sent him by mistake.

Baltimore, Md.—(AP)—Formation of the $10,000,000 Baltimore Mail Steamship company which in 1931 will give Baltimore the first trans-Atlantic passenger line since the World war, was announced Monday with the filing before state officials of application for a charter. The line is backed by Baltimore capitalists, in conjunction with the Roosevelt steamship company, and details of the system were given out by John M. Kaukauna — Three Kaukauna youths were injured in an automobile accident about 8:35 Monday evening at the corner of Wisconsin-ave and Depot-st. They are Norbert Berg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Berg, Mark VanLieshout son of Mr. and Mrs. William VanLieshout, and William Luttke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Luttke.

Drivers of both cars tried to swerve out of the way of each other but the Hoegh car struck the Berg car and tipped it over, police reported. Hoegh was uninjured.

The truck was almost demolished in the collision while the Wrightstown car was damaged about the bumper and lights.

Luttke received bad cuts about the face and arms and a painful injury to his foot. Berg received a long cut on his neck and shoulder and VanLieshout was cut on his face. All were given immediate treatment by a physician.

PIGEON CLUB MEETS TO SET STATIONS

Members Will Gather This Evening at Ervin Haessly Residence

Kaukauna — A special meeting of the Kaukauna Pigeon club has been called by the officers for 7:30 Tuesday evening at the home of Ervin Haessly on Kaukauna-st. Stations for the young pigeon's flying schedule will be set.

The schedule will be followed by the club in the fall races with the young birds. A change in the initial schedule was decided upon at a recent meeting on account of changed train service. Stations will be south from the city instead of west.

A change in the train service makes it necessary for the club to ship birds two days earlier in order to reach the flying points. This keeps the birds caged for a long length of time and cuts down their flying time. About 14 flights will be arranged for fall.

Birds will be shipped Wednesday for the last race of the spring flying schedule. It is the longest race of the season, a 500 mile flight from Norfolk, Neb. The pigeons will be released Saturday morning.

Awarding of the pigeon trophy will then be made to the owner of the birds having made the best average time in the schedule of races.

HAS THE LAXATIVE IN YOUR HOME A DOCTOR'S APPROVAL?

Some things people do to help the bowels whenever any bad breath, feverishness, biliousness, or a lack of appetite warn of constipation really weaken these organs. Only a doctor knows what will cleanse the system without harm. That is why the laxative in your home should have the approval of a family doctor.

The wonderful product, known to millions as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a family doctor's prescription for sluggish bowels. It never varies from the original prescription which Dr. Caldwell wrote thousands of times in many years of practice, and proved safe and reliable for men, women and children. It is made from herbs and other pure ingredients, so it is pleasant-tasting and can form no habit. You can buy this popular laxative from all drugstores.

MORE FARMERS IN COUNTY TURN TO ALFALFA, CLOVER

Excellent Crops Are Found Now in Eastern Townships

BY W. F. WINSEY

Kaukauna — Success in raising alfalfa and sweet clover is rapidly being transferred from the central part of Outagamie-co to the eastern part or to the towns of Kaukauna, Buchanan and Vandenberg. In the latter townships, the farmers have lots of sweet clover fields and alfalfa fields this summer and some of the growers are making hay of their surplus sweet clover. They are all comparing their yields of timothy with that of sweet clover and alfalfa this summer and losing faith in timothy as a crop and as a milk producer. With an ample supply of alfalfa hay and sweet clover pasture on the farms, they say the purchase of commercial feeds is reduced to a minimum and milk checks may be saved to pay taxes, and other bills and to make improvements. They know that nice green alfalfa and sweet clover leaves are filled with bran, middlings, oil meal, lime and phosphate and that it is much cheaper to raise these milk producers and body builders than to raise timothy hay and be forced to buy them.

These farmers have found out that by applying the rules of cultivation, that sweet clover and alfalfa are the surest and most profitable crops that a farmer can raise. They have also discovered that the well drained red clay soils and hillsides of their townships are especially adapted to the growing of alfalfa and sweet clover.

To see nice fields of alfalfa and sweet clover in these townships, one should drive over Highway 41 from Kaukauna to the Brown county line, any road north from Highway 41 north toward Freedom, between Little Chute and Kaukauna, and the Darby road through the town of Buchanan.

Malachi Ryan who was one of the first experimenters with alfalfa in Outagamie-co has a fine field this summer.

YIELD HOLDS UP

Peter Mc Gregor, route 3, Kaukauna, raised 15 acres of alfalfa this summer. This is the fourth season for his field. He has cut his crop and the yield was about the same as last year. He has already cut 13 acres of yellow blossom sweet clover for hay. His yield in both cases was about one and one-half tons per acre. He has been raising both of these feeds for several years. He is using manure as a fertilizer and one of his neighbors said that Mr. Mc Gregor never permits his stable manure to deteriorate in piles but that he spreads it on his fields, fresh, with none of its fertilizing qualities lost either by drainage or evaporation. As a result of raising alfalfa and sweet clover, he has 9 acres of very good oats, 9 acres of barley and 18 acres of corn as good as the oats.

On account of long continued alfalfa and sweet clover crops, the farm of Mr. Gehring, route 3, Kaukauna, is one of the outstanding farms in the town of Kaukauna. The hay and pasture not only gives him big, economical milk production but they fit his soil for the production of other farm crops. Mr. Gehring has found out through experience the secrets of successful alfalfa and sweet clover raising.

A. A. Lemke, route 3, Kaukauna made hay of two acres of sweet clover and got a yield of loads. On Saturday, he was cutting the balance of a ten acre field. He recently cut six acres of pure alfalfa and got a yield of ten loads of wonderful hay. He has been raising sweet clover and alfalfa the past ten years. His two and one-half acres of early peas was only a 50 per cent crop on account of frost injury. Two and one-half acres of late peas are very satisfactory. He has 11 acres of very good oats and 5 acres of barley equally good. His cattle are pasturing on 11 acres of sweet clover. It would take some very strong arguments to drive Mr. Lemke back from the raising of alfalfa and sweet clover to the raising of timothy and June grass. His experiments have raised him from the timothy and June grass class of farmers to the alfalfa and sweet clover class.

GROWS SWEET CLOVER

Henry Bowers, route 2, Kaukauna, has been raising alfalfa several years but this is the first year that he has tried sweet clover for pasture. Edward Fischer, route 2, Kaukauna, has raised alfalfa continuously the past ten years. As his field is on the main highway it has always attracted a great deal of attention and excited admiration on account of its beauty, and service to farm animals. An alfalfa or a sweet clover field on a farm, especially when in blossom is more attractive than the choicest flower gardens, and the feeding is wide spread among the people, that a good cow, hog or flock of laying hens ought to have an opportunity each day of the year to stuff themselves with either sweet clover or alfalfa. Mr. Fischer's alfalfa field being along roadside has induced a number of farmers to try raising a field of alfalfa.

Andrew Ver Boomen, route 3, Kaukauna, has been raising alfalfa the past 14 years and the only fertilizer he has used on his fields is barnyard manure. To increase his yields and to prolong the life of his alfalfa stands, he now proposes to test the soils of his fields. If he discovers a shortage of any of the feeds that alfalfa must have to grow strong enough to pass through the winter and to produce a big yield the following summer, Mr. Ver Boomen proposes to supply his alfalfa with that feed. A few preliminary soil tests have shown a shortage of lime which is one of the principals feeds of alfalfa. Phosphate is another of the principal feeds. Mr. Ver Boomen will test his soils for both lime and phosphate content. He is pasturing his cows on sweet clover and likes the feed very much as a milk producer. After pasturing his cows all summer last year on a field of sweet clover, he threshed 90 pounds of seed from the sweet clover surplus in the field.

Leo Schuh, route 3, Kaukauna, has finished putting five acres of alfalfa

PUSH EXPERIMENTS IN RAISING CABBAGE

Gus Sell, County Agent, and Martin Van Zeeland Conduct Tests

BY W. F. WINSEY

Kaukauna — Martin Van Zeeland and Gus Sell, county agent, experimented last year with raising cabbage on pure muck soil and they are continuing their experiment this year. Last year Mr. Van Zeeland did not use stable manure on his field of muck and did not do as well as he expected. Mr. Sell experimented with potash and other kinds of fertilizers last year, leaving rows unfertilized for checking up purposes and is doing the same thing again this year.

So far Mr. Van Zeeland has one of the best fields of cabbage started from home-grown plants in this vicinity. The field contains 17 acres, nine acres of which are muck. The plants in the muck are unusually large for this time of year and are very vigorous and of perfect color.

If neither drouth nor floods interfere with Mr. Van Zeeland's and with the county agent's experiments, the former will get a bumper crop of cabbage and the latter will be able to announce the best combination of commercial fertilizers for use on muck soil of the type of the Van Zeeland field.

In the meantime other cabbage hay in his barn. This is his first year for pasturing his cows on sweet clover and he likes the change very much.

growers will watch Mr. Van Zeeland's muck cabbage grow and compare that growth with the growth in their highland fields.

A fashion forecast for 1980!

Diamond rings in a wide choice of designs.
$25-$50-$100

Soothsaying is not our business, of course. But we can safely make one prediction.

In fifty years from now, diamonds will be just as much "in style" as they are today. And if they were purchased from a reputable jewelry store their value will not have depreciated one bit. Doesn't this suggest the wisdom of professional advice before you purchase diamonds? We'll gladly give it.
